Proceedings of the Industrial Convention at St. Louis.

AT ITS SECOND DAY'S SESSION

Numerous Organizations Represented by 607 Delegates-L. L. Pell Chosen to Preside in the Chair.

Sr. Louis, Feb 23. - Temporary Charman Cannon opened the second day's session of the Industrial convention at 10 a. m. The report of the credentials committee recommended scating 244 delegates from the Farmers'
Alliance, 53 F. M. B. A. 83 Knights of Labor, 97 National Farmers'
Alliance, 25 National Citizens' Alliacce, 97 Colored F. M. B. A., 27 National Citizens' Independent Alliance, 75 Patrons of Industry, 25 Patrons of Husbandry; total, 677. The Farmers' Alliance was given 25 delegates-at-large, and thirteen minor detached organizations and individuals were given a representation of 58. The contest from Georgia was left with the committee to be further wrestled with. Miss Willard Admitted. 1 nd

Ignatius Donnelly moved an amendment that Miss Frances Willard, Lady omerset, Clara Hoffman and F. II. Ingails be seated as delegates, repre-senting the National Women's Christian Temperance Union. The amendment was greeted with deafening cheers, and both amendment and report were adopted, going through like wild

The First Row.

Gen. Weaver moved the election of President Polk, of the Farmers' Allionce, as permanent chairman of the convention. The motion was secrary Chairman Cannon put the motion like another flash, declar-ing the election of Mr. Polk unanimous. In an instant Mr. Powderly of the Knights of Labor was on his feet, healy protesting that the pro-ceedings were irregular. Mr. Powderly declared, however, that the Knights of Labor in the convention would vote solidiy for Polk. Others besides Mr. Powderly added their protest, and Mr. Polk, apparently seeing that he had been placed in a false position, came to the front of the stage and announced that if there were objections to the manner of his election he would be willing to relinquish the position to which he had been chosen. The Vote Reconsidered.

An Illinois delegate vociferously in terrupted with a motion for a reconsideration of the election of Polk. The motion was promptly carried. Dr. Me-Cune advocated a vote by states instead of by organizations. The latter method was urged by Weaver. The Donnelly compromise of voting by both organizations and states came successfully to the front, however, after much confusion and parliamentary tangles. Polk was then formally nominated by half a dozen delegates simultaneously in different parts of the hall. Kentucky, at the last moment, slipped in with the name of Ben Terrell, of Texas, and the voting began by roll call, organizations being called first.

The Farmers' Alliance immediately plumped 246 votes for Polk, the F. M. R. A., with their 53 votes, and the Knights of Labor with 82. The anment of the vote of the knights made by Powderly personally was greeted with great cheering. The voting went on solidly for Polk, even the colored alliance wheeling into line unanimously for him. The colored men got a hearty cheer from the Polk men for the compliment. Mr. Terrell, after the balloting had proceeded somewhat further, apuse of his name had been without his knowledge and he desired to withdraw. Polk's election was now made upanimons without any more friction.

Miss Willard Ma e Vice President.

Wild cheering was elicited by the nomination of Miss Frances Willard as one of the vice presidents. Kentucky pominated Terrell once more as the favorite of that state. Both were chosen unanimously. Miss Willard was called upon to address the convention. She was enthusiastically recongratulation.

John W. Hayes, of the Knights of Labor, was made secretary of the convention by common consent, and this was followed by the reading of a telegram of greeting by Powderly, from District assembly No. 49, of New

The Colored Man Recognized. A sensation was caused by Warwick, a colored delegate from Virginia, arising at this juncture and stating in a dignified but extremely earnest manner that the colored alliance seemed to be getting no recognition in the convention. He firmly demanded that this be stopped. A delegate in the rear of the hall flippantly suggestthat Mr. Warwick be given an office -that of an assistant secretary. The convention took the suggestion The convention took the suggestion now a well and hearty woman." Bot-seriously and Gilmore, of Georgia, with thes 10 cents at Peck Bros.' drugstore marked show of courtesy, asked that Warwick's election be made unanimous. An Alabama delegate loudly proclaimed that it could never be done. vote was taken; to the Alabama man's surprise and chagrin only one negative voice was heard in the vast if your stomach be disordered you hall-his own.

Many Representad. Sr. Louis, Feb. 23.—The report of the committee on credentials of the industrial convention shows the following organizations represented: National Farmers' and Industrial al-liance: Farmers' Mutus' Renefit asso-clation; Enights of La'or; National Cit-izens' and Industrial alliance: Patrons of Husbandry; National Citizens' alliance; Southern Colored alliance, and National Farmers' alliance.
